Regarding Emergency Amendment to 7.34.4.8 NMAC, “Producer Licensing; General Provisions”

Dear Ms. Lujan Vigil:

The New Mexico Department of Health (“Department”) is filing an emergency amendment to 7.34.4.8 NMAC. This amendment is necessary to ensure the protection of our State’s citizens and to avoid federal intervention in New Mexico’s medical cannabis program.

A. The State of New Mexico may properly regulate cannabis plant count limits.

The rule at 7.34.4.8 NMAC specifies the maximum number of medical cannabis plants that a licensed nonprofit producer (“LNPP”) may possess. Until recently, LNPPs could possess “a combined total of no greater than 450 mature female plants, seedlings and male plants”. The Department was forced to reconsider its plant count limitation after the First Judicial District Court for the District of Santa Fe, New Mexico, issued an opinion in the case of Nicole Sena and New Mexico Top Organics – Ultra Health v. New Mexico Department of Health and Lynn Gallagher, case no. D-101-CV-2016-01971 (“Sena v. DOH”). There, the Court “enjoined [the Department] from enforcing the 450 quantity limitation against producers set out in NMAC 7.34.4.8(A)(2).” In reaching its decision, the Court expressly noted that the Department has authority to regulate the medical cannabis industry by means of a plant count, “as long as such count is based in fact and does not impede the purpose of the [Lynn and Erin Compassionate Use Act, NMSA 1978, §§ 26-2B-1 through 7].” This emergency rule amendment comports with that judicial mandate.

The Medical Cannabis Program was established in 2007 by the Lynn and Erin Compassionate Use Act, NMSA 1978, §§ 26-2B-1 through 7 (referred to hereafter as “the Act”). The purpose of the Act is to allow the beneficial use of medical cannabis in a regulated system for alleviating symptoms caused by debilitating medical conditions and their medical treatments. NMSA 1978, §

1 The Department subsequently sought an extension of the stay of the injunction to afford the agency additional time to conduct surveys of qualified patients and LNPPs and complete a full rulemaking process according to the timelines in the State Rules Act, NMSA 1978, §§ 14-4-1 through 14-4-11. However, that request was denied by the Court.
The Program currently serves approximately 67,000 enrolled patients, and licenses 35 LNPPs statewide to produce medical cannabis and distribute cannabis and cannabis-derived products to qualified patients and primary caregivers. Patients may qualify for enrollment in the Program based on various qualifying medical conditions and treatments under statute and regulation, including but not limited to cancer, multiple sclerosis, epilepsy, chronic pain, and post-traumatic stress disorder.

While the Act is intended to allow medical patients to obtain proper therapeutic treatment, the legislation is not intended to abrogate our State’s police powers. To that end, the Department has determined regulation of cannabis production is necessary to ensure the health and safety of New Mexico residents. Further, regulation will help to ensure that our State’s citizens may access medical cannabis without fear of interference from the federal government. These two considerations are discussed in turn below.

B. The Department must regulate growth of cannabis plants in order to mitigate adverse outcomes resulting from diversion.

The Court’s decision invalidating the State’s 450 plant count limit will take effect on March 1, 2019. In the absence of an emergency rule limiting supply, and until subsequent permanent rules are promulgated and in place, LNPP’s would have unfettered authority to grow and produce cannabis and cannabis-related products. A LNPP would face no restrictions on possession or production, and the Department would be without any authority to manage the production of cannabis in New Mexico. Our State cannot countenance such a result.

New Mexico has an interest in limiting the over production of cannabis because excess production gives rise to health and public safety issues. As other states have pointed out, there is a connection between excess cannabis inventory and diversion. See e.g., An Initial Assessment of Cannabis Production, Distribution, and Consumption in Oregon 2018 – An Insight report, Oregon-Idaho High Intensity Drug Trafficking Area, First Edition (2018). Diversion of cannabis inventory occurs when: (1) producers that are unable to sell their cannabis in the legal market choose to illegally divert cannabis rather than incurring economic loss from the destruction of excess product; (2) persons enrolled in the medical cannabis program purchase cannabis and sell it on the black market. In either instance, diversion may lead to crime (either in New Mexico or our sister states) and adverse social outcomes such as sales to minors. See e.g., May 18, 2018 Memorandum from The United States Attorney for the District of Oregon (noting that “significant overproduction” has resulted in an “a thriving black market [that] is exporting marijuana across the country”). The State may properly exercise its police powers to mitigate these negative outcomes of not having a plant count limit in place.

C. Regulation of plant count limits will help to ensure that our State’s citizens may access medical cannabis without fear of interference from the federal government.

The New Mexico Medical Cannabis Program is in tension with federal law that prohibits the use and possession of cannabis, which is designated in the U.S. Controlled Substances Act as a Schedule I controlled substance. The tension between state and federal laws on this subject creates unique difficulties and concerns for the administration of the Medical Cannabis Program.
purpose of the Act is to allow the beneficial use of medical cannabis in a regulated system for alleviating symptoms caused by debilitating medical conditions and their medical treatments. NMSA 1978, § 26-2B-2. This maxim, however, runs afoul of the federal government’s admonition that “marijuana is a dangerous drug and that marijuana activity is a serious crime.” See, January 4, 2018 Memorandum from United States Office of the Attorney General to all United States Attorneys. Thus, the augur of federal interference in New Mexico’s Medical Cannabis Program remains. The removal of all limits on cannabis production is likely to attract greater scrutiny from federal law enforcement and would jeopardize the continued operations of the Program. By limiting the number of plants within the Program, the Department intends to further the purposes of the statute and to limit the potential for federal interference with this critical public health program.

D. The emergency amendment to the regulation will more than triple the current limitations on plant count caps.

Through this emergency amendment, the Department is increasing the operative plant limit count from 450 to 2,500—an increase of over 500 percent.2 This upping of the plant count limit acknowledges growing enrollment in the Medical Cannabis Program, and seeks to ensure future availability of cannabis products.3 Further, this plant count limit is consistent with the Department’s estimates of maximum consumer demand, which is the polestar for assessing adequate supply. See NMSA 1978, 26-2B-7(A) (2007) (stating that adequate supply is the amount of cannabis “that is determined by rule of the department to be no more than reasonably necessary to ensure the uninterrupted source of cannabis for a period of three months).

For the reasons addressed above, The Department now amends the rule 7.34.4.8 NMAC via emergency rulemaking, consistent with NMSA 1978, § 14-4-5.6 (“Emergency rule”). This emergency amendment is temporary, and will expire in 180 days pursuant to NMSA 1978, § 14-4-5.6(E) unless a permanent rule is adopted under the normal rulemaking process in that period.

Yours truly,

[Signature]

Kathyleen M. Kunkel
Secretary of the New Mexico Department of Health

2 Because some LNPP’s have management agreement with other licensees, those LNPP’s will have a 2,500 plant-count limit for each license over which they have control. While the Department has concerns about these management agreements, they are presently a business arrangement that exists within the Medical Cannabis Program.

3 Any perceived or actual shortage in medical cannabis will not be immediately remedied. As UltraHealth’s counsel pointed out during a hearing in the Sena matter, it will take sixteen weeks for a producer to grow new cannabis plants and bring products to market. Sena v. DOH, Transcript of Proceeding on February 22, 2019, at page 13, lines 7-12.
